

Power Move 11 Worksheet: Money Models as the Architecture of Wealth

PURPOSE

A money model is not pricing. It is the architecture of how someone enters, gets results, and stays. This worksheet turns scattered offers into a pathway you can lead.

THE PROMISE THE MODEL MUST PROTECT

Brand promise (one sentence):

What the buyer must consistently experience (3 words):

1.

2.

3.

YOUR CURRENT OFFERS (INVENTORY)

List everything you sell right now. No editing. No shame.

Offers list:

1.
2.
3.
4.
5.
6.
7.
8.
9.
10.

ASSIGN EACH OFFER A ROLE (STOP THE RANDOM MENU)

Put each offer in one lane. If it does not fit, it is either misbuilt or unnecessary.

Lead Gen (Gateway)

Ascension

--

Premium (Hero)

--

Downsell (Stabilizer)

Retention (Continuity)

THE PATHWAY (WHAT HAPPENS NEXT)

Write the intended path in plain language. The goal is: no cliff edge after delivery.

Entry point (how they start):

Next step (after the first win):

Premium step (highest level of impact):

If timing is off (the stabilizer):

After the win (continuity):

THE GAPS (WHERE MONEY LEAKS)

Answer fast.

Where do clients ask “Whats next?” and you do not have a clean answer?

Which lane is missing or needs improvement right now (choose one):

- Lead Gen
- Ascension
- Premium
- Downsell
- Retention

Missing lane:

THE ONE OFFER YOU WILL STANDARDIZE FIRST

Pick one offer. Do not try to fix the whole ecosystem at once.

Offer name:

Lane (Gateway / Ascension / Premium / Downsell / Retention):

OFFER STANDARD BUILDER (ONE-PAGE SPEC)

This is the definition of the offer. If it is not written, the buyer will write it for you in real time.

Outcome (the promise):

Before:

After:

What “done” means:

What is inside your control:

Buyer fit (for / not for):

For:

Not for:

What must be true before they start:

Method (the path):

Phase 1:

Phase 2:

Phase 3:

Scope (included / excluded):

Included (required to deliver outcome):

Excluded (even if they ask nicely):

Revision rules / change requests:

Pace (timeline + cadence):

Start to finish timeline:

Cadence (calls, reviews, delivery rhythm):

What pauses the timeline:

Access (proximity + communication):

Who they access:

Where communication happens:

Response window:

Boundaries that protect delivery:

Proof (why this promise is believable):

Proof you have:

Proof you need next:

Requirements (what the buyer must do):

Inputs they must provide:

Decisions they must make (by when):

Participation required:

Terms (price + payment + boundaries):

Price:

Payment structure:

Refund posture:

What happens when they are late / unresponsive / out of scope:

Speed to reward (first win):

First win:

When they get it:

What it unlocks next:

THE THREE PRESSURE TESTS (REALITY CHECK)

Repeatable: what requires a hero to deliver?

Sustainable: what drains margin, time, or morale?

Scalable: what breaks if volume doubles?

THE DECISION (CHOOSE)

Decision:

- Keep and tighten
- Rebuild
- Kill it

Chosen decision:

One change you will make before you sell it again (one sentence):

MODEL LANGUAGE (HOW YOU LEAD WITHOUT SOUNDING SALESY)

Write one sentence you will use when a client asks, "Whats next?"

Whats next sentence:

Write one sentence that holds the line when they ask for out-of-scope work.

Hold-the-line sentence:
